NEW POINTS OF THE THESIS

1. New point in theory

- The thesis builds a concept of auction that both inherits results from published research works and is closely associated with the nature of asset auction in the synthesis of relationships with relevant factors.

- The thesis builds a concept of an auction enterprise, both based on legal regulations and associated with the characteristics and role of this enterprise in relationships with other subjects and in the market economy.

- The thesis builds a new theoretical system on legal regulations on auction enterprises.

2. New points in practice

- The thesis points out the limitations and directions for amending and supplementing the legal foundation on conditions for establishing an auction enterprise.

- The thesis points out the inadequacies, limitations, shortcomings and proposes amendments and supplements to the legal system on the rights and obligations of auction enterprises.

- The thesis points out the lack of unity, synchronization, persuasion and comprehensiveness in the legal system on sanctions for auction enterprises. From those, the thesis proposes to amend and supplement the legal system on sanctions for auction enterprises, including sanctions related to the conditions for establishing a business and sanctions related to the process business activities.
